Group Pictures For Mimosa

Group pictures are scheduled to be made for the Mimosa at 7 p.m. in the Student Commons Auditorium as follows:

Monday, December 3: Student Nurses Association, Economics Club, Panhellenic Council, Interfraternity Council, Women's Rifle Team, Men's Rifle Team, Rangers, ROTC Sponsors, Scabbard & Blade, Phi Beta Lambda, Sigma Alpha Alpha, Baptist Christian Ministry, The Catholic Student Association, Black Student Union, Alpha Eta Epsilon, Phi Mu Alpha, Delta Omicron, United Christian Students, United Christian Ministry.

Tuesday, December 4: J Club, Lex Corpus, Law Club, Psychology Club, Council for Exceptional Ed., SEA, Ushers' Club, Geography Club, Physical Education Club, Home Economics Club, Art Guild, Masque & Wig, Women's Counselors, Men's Counselors, Future Secretaries Association, The Writers' Club, Pi Gamma Mu, Phi Mu Chi Beta, Kappa Delta Epsilon.

Please be prompt. The following procedure will be used. Promptly at seven, two groups will be called up and posed in separate sections of the auditorium. The picture will be made. The group will be asked to move several feet away and remain in the same formation so that names may be taken for identification purposes. We ask that your group appear as scheduled because changing the schedule to please individuals or particular clubs is impossible. We use this system because the time allows more people to be present without missing classes and use of the auditorium which is the only meeting place on campus lighted for making pictures of large groups at night allows us to keep to a schedule regardless of weather conditions. We appreciate your cooperation in this matter. Working together like this will serve to make the 1974 Mimosa better.

Thank you,
Mark McRae and Susan Steadman, Section Editors;
Mrs. Opal Lovett, Adviser.

Registration News From Dr. Miles

The University is adopting a plan to identify students by their social security numbers, a plan of identification which is gaining acceptance by all segments of our society. We hope that the social security number system will, in the near future, supplant our method of identifying students by a University generated student number.

We are, therefore, asking that students give us their social security numbers—and student numbers—when they file permits to register and when they complete registration forms. Those students who have not yet obtained a social security number should apply for one through the proper federal agency as soon as possible.

Chanti Editor Leaves

By BILL LITTLEJOHN

Steven J. Allen, editor of the CHANTICLEER, announced his resignation over radio station WDNG Sunday morning, Nov. 25.

The resignation comes in the wake of disagreements between Allen and the Publications Board, which dismissed Allen on Friday, Nov. 16th. Allen then took his case to a federal court in Birmingham, but failed to obtain an order calling for his reinstatement. In an out-of-court compromise, he was reinstated as co-editor of the CHANTICLEER along with Carl Phillips, the associate editor, on Nov. 20th.

The current editor is Carl Phillips, who will fill the post until the end of the fall semester.

Please ! I'd Rather Not Hear It !

By JANE INGRAM
(A Professional Giftwrapper)

What would you have done if Scotch tape hadn't been invented?

Don't you have any prettier paper? I've seen lots nicer at Penny's.

You haven't been giftwrapping very long have you?

Honey—I just want two boxes for these small items. I'll wrap them at home. What! Do you mean to tell me that you don't have any better ones? Don't you have any green bows?

Don't you have any green bows?

I don't like that gold paper. Take it off and rewrap it in the green.

That's a dear.

Since you're just standing there with nothing to do, I'll give you something to wrap!

Would you mind wrapping these (25 pieces of costume jewelry) separately?

I know you probably don't have a box for this birdcage but—could you wrap it anyway?

I'll bet you can't wrap this hatbox!

Why should I show you my receipt? I'll have you know I'm an honest person and a long-time customer!

I don't like that paper! I'd rather have the green and gold with red bells.

This is the last time I wait until the last minute to do Christmas shopping!

Couldn't you wait on me first? My lunch hour is almost up. (My husband's riding around the block; I'm overparked . . . etc.).

Would you mind wrapping these (15 pairs of socks and 10 ties) separately? And would you please put different paper and bows on each? Oh yes, write the name on them, too!

Is there any charge?

Why don't you wrap for Kit-chin's?

Why don't you wrap gifts from other stores?

Wrap it for Christmas and then wrap it for mailing.

Why don't you put some little extra touches on my gift?

Where is that paper you had last year?

Don't you have any more shirt boxes?

Don't you know how to fold anything?

Why does my present look as if it's about to bulge out at the seams?

Don't you have a larger bag?

I didn't want this gift, so I wrapped it for something else. Would you wrap it again?

I'll bet you dream about wrapping—don't you?

Can't you wrap any better than that?

I'll bet you can't wrap an umbrella!

Giftwrapping is the easiest work of all, isn't it?

Can you wrap this before you close? It won't take ten minutes (Clothes hamper).

Who does this brown belt belong to?

Why did you throw away the price tags?

Can't you look under all that paper and find my sales ticket?

Hey! You wrapped my blue tie with her nightgown!

Honey—that gift was for a man—NOT a woman!

Would you like for me to come in there and show you how to wrap?

You look tired!

Do you dream about this at night?

I wish I had an easy job like this!

Hey! Christmas is almost here.

Is it too late to get this wrapped?

Why are they playing jingle bells over and over?

Can't you hurry?

Why don't you put those left-over bells on my package?

What will you do for a job now?

Why are you staring at the clock with that dazed expression?

Hey Lady! Whatcha doing on the floor under all that paper?

Lady? I wonder why she doesn't answer?

Ha! Bet you can't wrap this—but I hope you can.

What do you mean? I've never heard of anyone running out of red bows! It isn't Christmas if you don't have red bows.

What would you have done if Scotch tape hadn't been invented?

Hey! I was here first!

Aren't you glad that machine makes bows for you?

I'll bet you make bows in your sleep.

A New World

By BEVERLY TODD

Cast your eye upon the sunlit sky

As the glowing colors play upon
Each waitful leaf, of a nearby tree.

Two leaves, together, apart from all others

Touching, close, looking through the crowd

So they can see . . .

Below.

Another world, mysterious,
enchanted,

A different world from their own.

As they hold each other near,
they begin to wonder

If they should leave their golden home.

Silently they leave their dream
world

New Found Sounds

By FRITZ HUGHES

released as a single that you probably heard on an AM station somewhere, to the adequate "Goodbye". The very exceptional cuts are "Wing Wave", "She's Gonna Let You Down", "Submarine Ladies", "It's Life", "Molten Love", "Green Monkey" (on which Joe Walsh's fiery guitar appears), "Goodbye" and the best cut on the album being "Rainbow Song". The delivery is absolutely faultless.

America possesses ingenious versatility, they are strictly professional, manifesting a natural feeling for their music that makes their playing all the more admirable. The lyrics are excellent and endlessly listenable, the music definitely does justice to America's efforts. This group manages to rise up above the limits imposed on them.

America is definitely one of the brightest talents to grace our time.

Ringo Starr

Ringo Apple SWAL 3413

What all the Beatles back on the same album, who said it was impossible? Here are just some of the artists who appear on this LP: John Lennon, George Harrison, Paul and Linda McCartney, Billy Preston, Marc Bolan, Nicky Hopkins, Harry Nilsson and David Bromberg. What about that, hmmm sounds nice. The music for some reason (I couldn't imagine why with the personnel) is filled with a seemingly endless subtlety and inspiration. Ring's production style is not only original but is perfectly in tune with the material.

The music is layered and intricate but the lyrics are simple. The high points of the album are without a doubt "Devil Woman" and "You And Me Baby." The other good cuts are "Hold On", "Photograph", "Oh My My" and "Sunshine Life for Me." I was surprised at the powerful and important artists performing on this album.

Fortunately Ringo manages to instill a sense of vitality in his playing. The good moments easily outnumber the bad ones, there's a lot of good music on this LP. Ringo has fought hard to sing his musical autograph in the progressive pages of rock and roll. With this new album, Ringo succeeds in fulfilling the brilliance shown in some of his earlier recordings. This album is beautifully and consciously planned and arranged.

Special thanks to HOMESTEAD RECORDS in the Jacksonville Plaza without whose cooperation this article would not have been made possible. The special this week is John Lennon's—Mind Games at the special price of $3.48.

Bachman-Turner Overdrive

Mercury SRM-1-673

Bachman-Turner Overdrive, who recently played with Z-Z Top in Birmingham, has just released their first and what I hope will be the beginning of a long line of outstanding albums. By no stretch of the imagination are Bachman-Turner Overdrive the greatest rock and roll band ever to walk the face of the earth (although some say they are the greatest rock and roll band ever to have come from British Columbia) but as portrayed on this album they are capable of putting out some mighty fine rock and roll.

The opening cut on this LP "Gimme Your Money Please" displays the promise of the fantastic rock and roll to come. The other truly outstanding tracks on this LP are "Blue Collar", "Stayed Awake All Night", "Don't Get Yourself in Trouble", and "Thank You for the Feelin'." All the music on this LP is utterly magnificent, the stunning, expressive interplay of vocals, guitars and drums is perfectly wedded to strong convincing material.

This is driving intense, wide-open rock and roll, played so well that sometimes I just don't believe it. Bachman-Turner Overdrive is definitely one of the most impressive new groups. So turn up the volume and sit through mighty fine rock and roll.

The Grateful Dead

Wake of The Flood

Grateful Dead Records GD-01

The corporate Dead are here. The Grateful Dead's incredible endurance in the rock business sets them apart from other groups. They split from Warner Brothers and formed their own Record Label which gives them complete control from the recording to the distribution. The sound and production on this album are simply brilliant. The Grateful Dead are a multi-leveled band that can reach you on any level you care to receive them.

The song "Eyes of the World", is a complex jazz-oriented composition and is in most probability the best cut on the album. The string sets on this LP are some of the best you will hear from any group in the business, as depicted by the instrumental prelude to the cut "Weather Report Suite", Part I is soft and soothing, but Part II goes off into a Spanish guitar style. The other exceptional tunes are "Let Me Sing Your Blues Away", "Row Jimmy", "Stella Blue", and "Here Comes Sunshine".

From beginning to end this is a superb performance by what is surely one of the greatest bands of the sixties. What the Grateful Dead have given up in rawness and razzle-dazzle they have gained in depth of vision and musical maturity. If you've been so unfortunate as to never have caught the Grateful Dead live, this recording is the next best thing.

America-Hat Trick

Warner Brothers-BS 2728

Unlike most of their contemporaries, America's tracks never seem cluttered, filled with repetitious riffs, or just plain garbage. Instead this group knows just when and where to leave things out which at times changes even their most innocuous material into something definitely pleasurable. They have a controlled and manipulative musical conception determined to fill every hole and touch every base. Fortunately America has the ability to write decent and be believable love songs, and at the same time manage to keep them from sounding trite.

Every song on this album has something to offer from "Muskrat Love", the cut

CALCOPEX '73

October 28-29, 1973

Jacksonville, Alabama

GAMECOCK
COUNTRY

Calcopex '73 Prospectus

By CONSTANCE CURRIER

Bright shiny new pastel pinks blues yellows greens—Brittle faded yellowed-with-age all displayed with neat-as-a-pin-ness—

The sixth annual Calhoun County Philathelic Exhibition "Calcopex '73" (in other words, a stamp show) was held recently in Jacksonville, from Saturday Oct. 27 at 1 p.m. until Sunday at 6 p.m. The City Recreation Center (across from the police station) was filled with stamp collectors, dealers, big white boards offering up their presentations, confused visitors stumbling around and coordinators trying to straighten out confused visitors.

Entering the portals of the Rec Center, I joined the ranks of the confused bumbling visitors. Fortunately, the chairman, LTC Robert Effinger was close to the door and didn't let me wander around for long. I didn't even know enough to ask questions, but he immediately came to the rescue of this poor uninformed outsider.

First a guided tour of the main attraction—the presentations themselves. There were 18 different displays from animal, bird and fish themes to stamps showing the history of post-war Germany to a display of 'Horsepower in Stamps.' (All my life I thought stamp collectors just bought any stamp they could get their hands on). These displays were so organized—each one had a theme. And, everyone of them had neatly arranged research information supporting their presentation. Scott Selman's brightly colored display, for example, portrayed "worldwide birds-on-stamps showing each bird's relation, by a family tree, to all other birds of the world."

LTC Effinger told me that the collections would be judged by a board selected from non-club members. Eight awards were to be given and judges would look for "up-to-date philatelic or topical knowledge and any personal research, completeness and scope of the exhibit, condition, and arrangement and neatness of the presentation."

Of interest to Jax State students and alumni was the sale of stamp cachets featuring the 100th anniversary of college football which were issued in 1969. The cachet was decorated with the JSU emblem—the Gamecock. For those persons desiring cancelled cachets, a post office substation was created especially for CALCOPEX '73.

The Calhoun County Stamp Club meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at the Mildred Johnston Library (also across from the police station) at 7 p.m. LTC Effinger assured me that members range from beginners to really advanced collectors. They have members from all over the county but invite anyone who is a collector to come and share in these meetings. The chapter is a member of the American Philatelic Society. Members trade stamps with each other, as well as having the opportunity to purchase stamps through sales circuits.

Film Festival

By VERONICA PIKE

The JSU Radio Committee gave a silent film festival—but nobody came.

The committee sponsored two film shows Nov. 7. About 35 students attended the 6 p.m. show, but no one attended the afternoon show.

Also, Halloween night, the committee guided some 45 students into the past by means of the festival.

The festivals involved 14 time-honored films, and lasted until shortly before midnight.

Charlie Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, Our Gang and Boris Karloff entertained the audiences in films such as "The Immigrant," "Bacon Grabbers," "Spook Spoofing," and "The Mummy."

A spokesman for the committee expressed some disappointment in the Halloween festival's attendance, but attributed the smaller-than-expected participation to the fact that many students were working on various homecoming displays. But the committee was even more disappointed when less students showed up for the second festival.

With an admission of 50 cents, the festivals netted $37 for WJSU, which recently began broadcasting.

Movie Review:

"Last Tango In Paris"

By BEVERLY TODD

"The Last Tango in Paris" makes Marlon Brando appear as if he was doing his last tango in pictures. As the star, Brando plays the role of a deranged sex-freak who enjoys the perverted things in life. This plotless, boring movie has nothing backing it but a rat-eaten apartment and a French prostitute. To add even more distaste to this movie is the fact that most of it is spoken in French, so you have to read half of the movie. I don't recommend seeing this movie, but if you're as curious as I was, go ahead. Just take along something to keep yourself occupied. Like a good book, a date, a pack of chewing gum...

Concert Review

By BEVERLY TODD

On November 4 at 3 p.m. in Birmingham, "Chicago" put on a fantastic show. They played a few of their latest releases such as "Just you and me", "Hollywood", "What's this world coming to", and "Darlin' dear". Robert Lamb sang "Critics Choice" while playing a piano solo. They also played some of their famous hits such as

"Saturday in the park", "I just want to be free", "Beginnings", "I'm a man", "Feelin' stronger everyday" and "Dialogues 1 & 2". They were even more fantastic than I expected. After the concert was over, the crowd yelled for more so they performed one last time singing "25 or 6 to 4". If you ever get a chance to hear them, take that chance and go!!

back to normal in time.

Capricorn (The Goat) Your attitude and dim outlook will open as your inner beliefs are disproved.

Aquarius (The Water-bearer) School and work open a new world before your eyes, take it, peel it, and eat it.

Pisces (The Fish) Make second thoughts on your new friends and (roommates) as they may not be what you think they are. Love!

One last note. Madame Sosostri has seen a Gamecock flying in the sky above Jacksonville in her crystal ball. I wonder what that could mean?

Madame Sosostri

Madame Sosostri the 102 year old gypsy and astrologer has given in to the hundreds of letters from CHANTICLEER readers, and has begun filling our mailbox with mysterious omens, evil thoughts, and useful warnings concerning all of our lives. Madame Sosostri although self-exiled in that bustling city of Weaver, Alabama has promised to filter her letters from twenty-five per week to a useful two or three per week. She hopes to provide us with some valuable information and assets to help us control our lives towards our pre-determined destinies. I would like to take this opportunity to invite the students and administration of JSU to write a serious letter to Madame Sosostri, drop it off at the CHANTICLEER office (make sure it is sealed) and we will relay the letter to her. Ask the life-saving, century old lady what could profit your life more, what does the flower on the ground mean, anything, I am sure she will help. If your problem is not solved in this column. Even if you need a date boy or girl, write her, she will be glad to be of assistance.

Curtiss Takes Volleyball Crown

Curtiss led by Becky Nix overcame stiff competition and won the 1973 Women's Volleyball Championship. Curtiss upset the previously unbeaten BSU in the semi-finals for the right to meet the Rowan Grey Ghost in the finals. The real excitement was in the semi-final round where the Grey Ghost upset favorites ZTA. This was the ZTA's first loss of the season and ended all hopes of a championship. The ZTA's then played BSU for third place with BSU rising to the occasion and winning 2-1. Grey Ghost, led by outstanding play from Francis Freeman, Linda Keykendall, and Debbie Murdock, overcame the odds against them and defeated ZTA—only to fall to Curtiss in the finals. Curtiss played perfect volleyball all night and did not lose a game in either the semi-finals or finals. They defeated BSU 2-0 and clobbered a tired Rowan team 3-0 to win the championship. Outstanding players for Curtiss were Becky Nix, Mary Lou Palmer and the Green sisters.

Iron Butterfly Is Champion

Iron Butterfly came to prove they are the best flag football team at JSU and they did just that. ATO was ready to play and they showed well by taking the lead with a touchdown the second time they had the ball in the first period. Buddy Askew passed 35 yds. to Randy Dodson and Charles Kicker made the PAT good for a 7-0 ATO lead. After that all the scoring was by IB Mike Jackson's pass to Randy Hebson was good for 50 yds. and a TD. The next IB TD was a 2 yd. run by Jackson and the 2 pt. PAT was a pass from Jackson to Gentry. The score at the half was 14-7. In the second half Jackson passed to Phil Foster for a 35 yd. TD.

That ended the scoring but IB was driving when time ran out. The final was 21-7. Outstanding on defense for IB was Van Davis, John Yackley, Doug Perry, and Danny Thomas. Outstanding players for ATO other than those mentioned were Mangeiri, Glasgow, Conners, David, and Holmes.

Gamecocks Experienced Crew

Coach Mitchell Caldwell's Gamecock basketball team is an experienced crew as they take to the floor in an effort to improve the 17-9 record of the 1972-73 team.

Coach Caldwell is expecting five returning starters to do big things, they are: forward Howard Hatcher a junior, 6-6, from Gadsden, forward Charles Nunn a junior, 6-5, from Opelika, center Ray Money a junior, 6-11, from Dothan, forward Danny Smith a senior, 6-5, from Huntsville, and guard Darryl Dunn a sophomore, 6-3, from Gadsden.

Other members of the team expecting to see action are Alex Baker, 6-5, of Trion, Ga., Randy Lewis, 6-3, of Danville, Larry Jackson, 6-6, of Dalton, Ga., Kent Bouldin, 6-4 of Crossville, and Bruce Stewart of Roswell, Ga.

With a team like this team the student body of JSU should throw all their support behind the round ball team. For your convenience you will find the schedule included:

Would Hustling Willy Please Come By!

Writer Fascinated By Pool Mechanics And Terminology

(ED. Note: Hustling Willy, would you please come by and pick up your material.)

The first pool table I ever saw quickly drew my interest. The mystery of all those rolling spheres caught my attention, but I believe the strange terminology fascinated me more. However, both of the latter seem to give the game a depth with no bottom.

I do not attempt here to explain the mechanics of pool. To attack such a task on paper, and not on the pool table, would be a fool's venture. I only wish to bring out a few pool terms that are ambiguous to everyday English, and some are downright comical.

Breaking the rack is explanatory if you know what the rack is. There are two racks. One is a triangle made of wood or plastic used to gather all the balls in one group, which is placed near the end of the pool table with one point of the triangle pointing toward the farther end of the table. Once the cue ball is shot into the triangle of balls, the rack is broken. No, you didn't break the wood or plastic rack, because you wouldn't have a rack to rack the next rack.

Once the rack is broken you are in the game. One term leads to another term which justifies the clarification of the first term, so I shall work from here. The cue ball is the only ball on the table that is totally white. This is the ball you put english on. English in pool? Sure, I know some pool sharks that have a Ph.D. in pool english. English is the art of pool. My speciality is bottom english. Some pool shooters specialize in top english, whereas, the sharks specialize in all the english; the key to perfect english is the excessive use of chalk.

English is used to get shape. Women can use english, but it only helps their shape in pool. If you can get shape, then you can run the table. In the Student Commons Building you aren't allowed on the pool tables, so how can you run the table? First, if you can't get on the table, then you have to use a crutch. You can't run too well with a crutch because the crutch sometimes causes your cue slip, then you might get hung up in a pocket. That can stop a perfect run with a disappointment.

During your run, you may not be dead in on a ball, therefore, a cut is necessary. Some sharks can't cut as well as they bank or kick, so one rail will do the trick. If you are hidden and you can't kick, cut, or bank, the only choice left is a combination, especially if kisses are free. Sometimes you may get a lucky kiss, but there is always a possibility you might scratch. You don't have to kiss to scratch, but kisses cause many of the scratches.

If you are worried about scratching, you can make the cue ball set down by using bottom english. The only way to scratch thereafter would be another ball kicking the cue ball in a pocket. Should you not get any rolls at all, you should turn your cue in and wait for your luck to change.

Boyce Callahan Shows Leadership

As Both Student And Athlete

Four years ago Coach Stewart from Saks High School in Aniston, Alabama had a small running back that had fantastic moves when he carried the ball. Coach Stewart worried that his running back, Boyce Callahan was too small to play college football, Stewart set out to show people that Callahan could play ball with the college men. He finally got Coach Charley Pell, the new man at JACKSONVILLE STATE to agree to give Callahan a chance to play and the rest is written in the history books of the Gulf South Conference.

The Present: Callahan has 40 touchdowns to his credit and has rushed for more than 4,200 yards in the four years. This is an average of 10 touchdowns a year and 1,050 yards a year. Meaning that Callahan has been the premier running back of Jacksonville and has won league, conference, and national recognition. He has been described by a friend of mine who is a defensive linebacker on one of Jacksonville foes as, "The hardest little man in the conference and possibly the nation to bring down on any play because you grab for his jersey or his legs and he seems to turn into a liquid and slides right through your grasp and scores on you."

Callahan as a man off the football field is one of the most humble men in the world as he is quick to give his teammates the credit for winning the game. "It is a team effort and everyone contributes to the win." Also, if someone of the news media asks him what he credits his success and he is quick to tell them that if it were not for the men up front, I would not go anywhere with the ball.

Callahan as a student leader is very friendly and always has something to say to everyone and is very active in the Fellowship for Christian Athletes, president of the J Club and other organizations.

TKO Issues Challenge

TKO was the leader of JSU spirit during basketball season and plans to lead the way this year. We wish to ask or challenge all other organizations on campus to help or take the lead in spirit at our basketball games. The basketball team is an important part of this campus and as TKO we want it to be number one. The team needs our support and all other organizations on campus. TKO challenges all Greek to show more spirit than we do at JSU basketball games.

Kappa Alpha Psi Sponsored Projects

Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity awarded a turkey to the winner of their Thanksgiving Turkey Contest. The winner was Mrs. Willie Cooney of Jacksonville.

As one of the major fraternities here on campus, KAPsi includes in its agenda various community projects as part of their Guide Right Program.

This semester KAPsi has sponsored numerous projects including a Halloween party for kids held in the Eastwood Community Center; a raffle which gave the holder of the lucky ticket a chance to win one of three prizes—10-speed bicycle, portable black and white television, or fifty dollars cash—the winner was Miles Palmore of Piedmont; A Thanksgiving Turkey Contest; and various social events on campus. The fraternity plans to present a Christmas party for kids from ages 3 to 9 on December 15.

Rifle Team

Sees Action

The Rifle Teams of Marion Institute and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga were in Jacksonville, November 10, to compete against the Gamecocks. The Gamecocks held on to their conference lead by defeating both teams 1053 to 973 for Marion and 1004 for UTC. This win gives them a 5-0 standing in the Alabama Conference. Pam Byrom was high shooter with a 270.

November 17 the Gamecocks traveled to the University of Alabama to fire against the University and Florence State. The Cocks have already defeated the Lions twice this season and are really looking forward to defeating the UA Crimson Tide.

Interview With A Future Writer Projectively

By CONSTANCE CURRIER

Prestige fame money diamonds fan letters talk shows one-man retrospectives speaking tours books articles interviews. Delightful monstrosity, satisfying revulsion, sweet disaster, royal poverty: the warring factions of life, even her mind. Begun amid pervasive chaos, there remains the college recognizable to sensitive souls of the world—Constance Currier. Restful as the plants dominating her "room for living", she speaks to you in paradoxes. She struggles to clarify for you what is in her experience, but beyond words, phrases. Where is her head now? Attempting to maintain her natural perspective in spite of awing prestige fame money diamonds fan letters talk shows one man retrospectives speaking tours books articles interviews. How did her head get here? It seems, says she, that I'm a smalltowngirlmadegood. When you're young, at least it was with me, you tend to think in big, broad primary color yellow red blue areas. Two dimensional flat spaces from small goal to small goal. My theme was "I'm majoring in art." (Fantastic—how creative you are—wow, that's neat.) But "majoring in art" is not an end in itself and quickly comes to its appointed demise. When I finally realized that my security blanket was gone (spoken with grave, wide-open eyes) I fell apart, unable to stir a finger. Sitting in her alive abode, watching the ever-vibrant being, you are left refusing to reconcile words with source, as confused as the person she describes.

Looking at my plansforthefuture, in light of the facts, my knowing yourself (it's easy for others to say "you'll do fine"—they've never been inside me, and they don't know the countless times I've failed daily) I could tell that they were totally unreasonable. But I just couldn't let go—in light of what FELT good, what I could slip on comfortably, I had to keep on.

Sometimes, the unpushy encouraging off-hand comments of unsuspecting friends became the very basis for continuing. Helping me to believe in myself and in my work. To be selective, unhurried—working in a steady fashion, a disciplined way. As mundane and far from the artistic temperament as it seems to me, organizing my mind and setting it to work in this anythingbuthaphazard-manner has really brought me through the not-infrequent-uncreative days. In order to bring forth the real Maxine and allow her to develop unbounded, obviously the smallhometowncollege had to be left behind. Plansforthefuture became the concrete outer shell and loving inner life force of the Atlanta Art Institute. Why is her head going this way? Why not University of Alabama, or University of Georgia—both not home but not so very far away; both academically outstanding and both having the basic qualification—atmosphere of creativity. Sinking into the overstuffed pillows of the sofa, stroking the rich brown of the courduroy nap, she apparently has turned her attention from you. You've heard that artist's are always preoccupied and soooooo moody. So you try to decide whether to repeat the question or go on to fresh ground. But as voice rises in your throat, she returns to you, dismayed with the limits words put on her feelings. Fingers still playing with the thick nap, she begins again attempting to explain. As always, before plansforthefuture turn into the real present, man repeatedly most struggle through the possibilities. The hunger and thirst for knowledge of all kinds fighting with the almost physical need for self expression and inner release. And always backed by the desire to live at the highest, most excellent plane—to merely not do art or make art, but BE art!!!! This is what is so paradoxical about success—that once arrived, you lose the very things that brought you here. The pressure of the public life, the squeezedemptytube of time, the fulfilling of "obligations" that come just behind S-U-C-C-E-S-S crowd out the living of life to the very fullest . . . including really feeling pain—staring it down, as well as really grooving on happiness. There is no time to be caught up in the moment.

Jobs Are Plentiful In European Nations

"Jobs for young people 18 to 29 are now available in Europe any time of the year" said Dr. F. X. Gordon, president of Princeton Research, at an interview with Stanford University and Palo Alto High School students today.

"The European Common Market employment rate is 50 per cent less than that of the United States. Job availability forecasts for 1974 high school and college graduates in the United States are not so rosy. There are more young people entering the job seeking market (some 1,300,000 per year) than there are suitable jobs.

Some graduating high school seniors, college freshman, sophomores and juniors are wisely following the advice of personnel and education experts by planning to take a year off from the academic treadmill to stretch the mind by working and travelling.

We have a program called Jobs Europe", he continued. "The aim of this program is to give young people, 18 to 29 years of age, an inexpensive and unique opportunity to live in, and learn about, Europe. In the past 13 years we have found jobs in Europe for 10,823 young people. Three thousand jobs are now available anytime of the year—winter, spring, summer and fall.

These guaranteed salaried jobs are mostly for trainees—general help—as stewardesses and stewards on trains, with large first class hotels, restaurants, supermarkets, department stores, etc. in Switzerland, England and Belgium. Most of the jobs include room and board in addition to local salary. Friends can work together, or near each other, if they apply together.

Schedule Set

The 1974 Fighting Gamecocks of Coach Charley Pell are facing an 11 game schedule composed of six home games and five away games. They will be adding the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and Northwestern Louisiana to their list of opponents. The Northwestern Louisiana game will be a home game.

Men's Volleyball

Men's volleyball tournament began Monday, Nov. 26. In the first round TKO beat KS "B", Go Nabs defeated Climax, PKPhi smashed Smashers and DX beat DTD. In the second round TKO beat Gators.

Morris-Ozzley Take Tourney

Linda Morris and Ralph Ozzley won the JSU mixed doubles tournament by defeating strong opponents Susan Bandy and Marty Cannon. Play began on November 15 with Morris and Ozzley winning the first set with Bandy and Cannon winning the second. Darkness overcame the players and the final set was postponed until Monday, November 19. Morris and Ozzley broke service several times and went on to soundly defeat their worthy opponents 6-1. Other outstanding couples were Mike St. John and Faye Scott and Gonzy Casares and Donna Mims.

Civil Service Announces Job Deadlines

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today the filing deadlines for 1974 summer jobs with Federal agencies. Those who file by December 28 will be tested between February 2 and 16; and by January 25, between February 23 and March 9, at locations convenient to them.

The Commission said the earlier a student files and takes the test, the greater the chances for employment. Each summer about 10,000 positions are filled from a pool of more than 100,000 eligibles. About 8,000 of these are clerical jobs, and approximately 2,000 are aides in engineering and science occupations.

Complete instructions for filing and information on opportunities available are contained in CSC announcement No. 414, Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies, which may be obtained from Federal Job Information Centers, most college placement offices, or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. 20415.

Unlike its practice in past years, the Commission will not automatically send forms to those who qualified in 1973 but who may wish to remain on the lists for consideration in 1974. Those who qualified for summer employment in 1973 must update their applications by submitting a form enclosed in the announcement. They are not required to repeat the written test.

The U. S. Postal Service is not participating in the summer employment examination for 1974. Inquiries regarding summer employment with the Postal Service should be directed to the post office where employment is desired.

FSA Is New On Campus

Future Secretaries Association, sponsored by the Ladiga Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, is a fairly new organization on campus. Members must be secretarial majors or minors. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in 105 Merrill Building. The meetings are interesting and beneficial to those in the secretarial field. Past meetings have included guest speakers from various areas of the business world. A future event for next semester will be a trip to the First National Bank of Anniston.

The new members were initiated in a candlelight service at the November meeting. We welcome new members in January. For information about becoming a member or any other aspects of the organization, one may contact the sponsor, Mrs. Willodean Collins (107 Merrill Building), or the two co-sponsors, Mrs. Betty Selman (107 Merrill Building) and Mrs. Johnillee Harper (108 Merrill Building).

Present members are reminded to attend the next meeting on Dec. 5 at Mrs. Selman's home at 1202 Sixth Avenue.

One cancer you can give yourself.

Horrible isn't it?

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Can anyone do what you do any better?

Probably not. All things considered you do what you do pretty doggone well. After all, no one has taken your job. And you're eating regularly. But...

But have you ever considered what doing your job just a little better might mean?

Money. Cold hard coin of the realm.

If each of us cared just a smidge more about what we do for a living, we could actually turn that inflationary spiral around. Better products, better service and better management would mean savings for all of us. Savings of much of the cash and frayed nerves it's costing us now for repairs and inefficiency.

Point two. By taking more pride in our work we'll more than likely see America regaining its strength in the competitive world trade arena. When the balance of payments swings our way again we'll all be better off economically.

So you see—the only person who can really do what you do any better is you.

America. It only works as well as we do.

Kodak All-America Picks Honor 23 College Grid Stars

A pair of the sometimes-unsung trench-fighters, an offensive tackle, and a defensive guard captured the most votes for the Kodak All-America football team which was announced today by the American Football Coaches Association.

Ohio State tackle John Hicks, 6 foot, 3 inch, 258 pound economics major, led in the balloting for a 23-man squad named by the committee representing more than 3,000 voting members of the AFCA.

Lucious Selmon, 5-11, 236-pound noseguard, a special education major and one of three brothers playing for Oklahoma, drew the second largest total of votes.

The coaches picked five offensive backs, and slotted their 11 defensive men into three brackets—linemen, linebackers and defensive backs.

Southern California placed three men on the squad. Texas, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Michigan each had two players selected.

The U. S. C. Trojans landed two men on the offensive squad and one on defense. Booker Brown, a 270 pound guard, and flankerback Lynn Swann, an outstanding wide receiver, made the attacking unit. Richard Wood, an outstanding junior, made the linebacking force.

Ohio State's contributions were Hicks, called by coach Woody Hayes the best tackle he's had, and the team's lone repeater, Randy Gradishar (6-3, 238) who also made it in 1972 despite an injured leg.

Two infantrymen from Nebraska won positions on the honor team. Offensive tackle Daryl White measures 6-4 and 247; defensive tackle John Dutton is 6-7 and 251.

Oklahoma's defense was twice represented, by the oldest Selmon, and by linebacker Rod Shoate.

Michigan also placed a pair on defense, Dave Brown in the backfield, and Dave Gallagher up front.

The quarterback assignment went to Dave Jaynes of Kansas. Jayhawker Jaynes, who carries 212 pounds on a 6-2 frame, broke school records with every pass completion.

Fullback Roosevelt (Rosey) Leaks of Texas was the major college rushing leader nearly all season. Only 5-11 and 215, Leaks is a junior. Halfback honors went to Woody Green of Arizona State and John Cappelletti, a law enforcement major, from Penn State. Center Bill Wyman gave Texas two offensive representatives.

Other offensive selections include Danny (Lightning) Buggs of West Virginia at split end; Dave Casper of Notre Dame at tight end, and Buddy Brown of Alabama at guard.

Other defensive choices were Paul Vellano of Maryland, defensive line; Warren Capone of Louisiana State, linebacker; and Randy Rhino of Georgia Tech, defensive back.

All-America selections originated with Walter Camp in 1887. Kodak and the American Football Coaches Association joined hands to sponsor the successor to Camp's team 13 years ago. It now is generally recognized as the most prestigious of football's honor squads.

Because of the natural relationship between coaching and photography, including the use of film and equipment in today's coaching and teaching programs, Kodak is closely involved in college football.

The squad was featured in the ABC-TV network special "Kodak's All-America Team" aired on Friday, November 23, at 5:30 p.m. (EST). Players will be hosted for a post-season weekend of rest and relaxation in San Francisco Dec. 7-10.

Little Man Has His Day

February 2 Has Been Scheduled As "Boyce Callahan Day" Here

Story Courtesy of The Anniston Star
At 5-9, 160 pounds, Boyce Callahan is not big enough to ... Just hold it right there. After all these years of hearing how little Boyce Callahan is, you're about to hear something different.

Callahan might be the biggest man Charley Pell and Jack Stewart and hundreds of football fans have ever known.

You don't measure heart in feet and inches and pounds.

Callahan's football-playing career ended last Saturday night at Florence—after some 35 high school games and 38 college games and miles of offense and records and victories.

Callahan's home town—the community of Saks—is planning a special way to say "Thank you, Boyce." February 2, 1974, will be "Boyce Callahan Day" at Saks. Former coaches, teammates, friends and fans will honor the Saks High and Jacksonville State University tailback who set more offensive records than Pat Sullivan and Joe Namath combined.

The special day is being sponsored by the Saks Athletic Club, with help from Jacksonville State and the JSU Alumni Club.

Russ Carlisle, who is chairman of the Boyce Callahan Day Committee, says, "We have been laying our groundwork for this event for three weeks. Everybody is enthused about it and offering help, and we hope to show Boyce how proud we are for what he's done for our community, Calhoun County and Jacksonville State University." Carlisle announced last week that 400 tickets are on sale for the banquet at Saks on the night of Feb. 2. Tickets may be purchased from any Saks Athletic Club member, or at various business locations in Anniston, Saks, Jacksonville and Oxford.

Callahan, while playing for coach Jack Stewart at Saks, broke every offensive record at the school and led the Wildcats to the 3A State Playoffs his junior year (1968).

Stewart was the man who talked JSU head coach Charley Pell into signing Callahan, and Pell did so reluctantly.

Boyce responded by breaking into the starting lineup his freshman year and rushing for 1293 yards, leading the Jaxmen to a 10-0-0 record and a victory over Florida A & M in the Orange Blossom Classic.

Callahan rushed for 4,227 yards during his four years at JSU, scored 40 touchdowns, made the All-Conference team three years, was named honorable mention Little All-America his junior year, was named National Back of the Week following a 250-yard rushing performance against Northeast Louisiana this season, and the honor list goes on and on.

Incredibly, Callahan missed only two games during his four years at JSU due to injuries and not many 5-9, 160-pound backs can stand up that well in the era of the big player in college football.

Not many players that small can even make the team.
